SUMMARY

Drainage and Water

The drainage and water enquiry shows many causes for concern at this property. Seriously, why are you even considering this?

There's a public sewer within the boundary, running right through the old Native American burial ground.

The classification for the water supply at the property is 'cursed'. Seriously, the water's haunted, why do you want this property???

Flood

Landmark have provided flood information for the property and, frankly, it's not good.

We're talking regular flooding, giant octopi, mutant two-headed sharks and possibly the creature from the Black Lagoon invading your property on a regular basis. Oh, and zombie pirates.

A summary of the questions and answers are shown below. We'd recommend staring into a mirror and reading the questions out loud five times.

There's three handy classifications used to help you interpret the search. All of these are designed to distract you from the fact that your property's sitting on a Hellmouth.

-  This response is to lull you into a false sense of security.
-  The attention of the purchaser is drawn to this response. Basically, don't say we didn't warn you.

The majority of things on this plan are lethal and you should seriously reconsider moving anywhere near here.

Look, we warned you. You move here, there'll be hordes of zombies outside, creepy kids crawling out your TV and sinister phone calls in the middle of the night asking "What's your favourite scary movie?"

The good news is that it's all a ploy orchestrated by that creepy old guy from the amusement park. And he would have gotten away with it too if it wasn't for you pesky kids

Fortunately our actual searches are much more informative than this, and detail actual hazards. You can read all about them on severntrentsearches.com. Happy Halloween!
